About

D&D offers an all-in-one solution to heavy-duty bulk material handlers through robust plant maintenance programs, offering both the sale and installation of belting, scrapers, idlers, and skirtboard rubber on new and existing conveyors. Our focus on delivering safety, service, and integrity provides the ultimate ease of mind.

History

In 2010, after over 30 years combined experience in the belting industry, brothers Mike and Jeff Darnell founded D&D Belting. Their goal was to fill a market gap: combine great service, quality products, and the desire to create innovative solutions for customers in the heavy-duty material handling industry. And that's exactly what they've done.

With the help of their parent company, Sparks Belting Company, D&D has established itself as a reliable heavy-duty belting supplier and servicer, with loyal, reputable customers nationwide.
